

Briefly after the launch of the new GNX displays, Garmin released to FaRo Advanced Systems the protocol to communicate with the displays. Fully NMEA2000 compatible, the GNX displays can receive also PGN sentences carrying up to 20 custom variables. With fully customizable user profiles, the GNX allows the screen layout to be configured to the user's preferred setting. Five display configurations are available, including single, dual and triple functions.

Read more details here